@RichardGarriott wow, he was really pissed off! Back before you could find help on the internet. : Wonder what he is doing now!

@RichardGarriott Sorry, he was about 70-80 years old at the time... my brother called him once... then he quit complaining, so likely gone now.

Correy Roth @corroth · 1 dic. 2015

@RichardGarriott awww... I wonder if he ever finished it? Admittedly, most of the clue books were pretty lacking back then...

@RichardGarriott Maybe his problem was that he knew how to spell "star"?

Richard Garriott @RichardGarriott · 1 dic. 2015

@RichardGarriott (Well... unlike me... I know)

@RichardGarriott I loved Stone III! I still have a Polaroid of my Apple II's monitor (= a "screenshot" <1985> of the final screen)

@BarnesConroy Jagger Grinnel, have I congratulated you on defeating Excalus and ending the first age of darkness? If not, congrats & thank!

@RichardGarriott Typewriters and Video games... I would have thought they never co-existed.

@RichardGarriott Wow. That is some serious disappointment. And sense of wit/temper, too. Fiction writers get similar communications.

@emmoore @RichardGarriott The cool bit DG did it again and again, with such new title

Richard Garriott @RichardGarriott · 1 dic. 2015

@DavidRWatson @emmoore DG would buy one > hate letters > finish it > love letters > praise letters awaiting sequel; repeat. Until we called

David R. Watson @DavidRWatson · 2 dic. 2015

@RichardGarriott @DavidRWatson @emmoore So what DG really craved as personal attention/validation. Interesting

David R. Watson @DavidRWatson · 2 dic. 2015

@RichardGarriott @emmoore Validation a universalizable principle?

Elizabeth Moore @emmoore · 2 dic. 2015

@DavidRWatson @RichardGarriott People want their story to be heard, respected, not contradicted/ignored. Not any old to learn like

Peter Birdall @tdgtdgtdg · 2 dic. 2015

@emmoore @DavidRWatson @RichardGarriott hate to say it but it may have worked... 3 decades after the fact to boot. I MUST HAVE MORE GLIMMER!

@RichardGarriott And how they are Glinkiel letters. So old my beating heart... they might just live down a lot. But not really old.
